

SEBASTIAN COLLISON

A versatile individual with strong roots in development and extensive knowledge of design software. With skillsets that range from graphic design within the Adobe Suite to VFX in Cinema4D, I am able to complete all design tasks set to a very high standard while still working hard in my free time to extend my current knowledge. Passionate to explore and build upon my skillsets, I am now devoted to perusing a career as a junior developer and am wanting to do so in the United Kingdom. I believe that with my previous experience and ability to approach problems with a wide range of tools and a deeper contextual understanding, I will be a great asset to the company.
